[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO APRIL 25.

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

The Fighting Continues—Insurgents Meet with Heavy Losses.

LONDON, April 24.—Dispatches from before Paris say that decisive attacks on Forts Issy and Vanvres have been postponed.

A special to the News says that a night attack made by the Communists upon the barricades on the quay of Asnieres, was repulsed with great slaughter. The Communists lost the greater part of Neuilly, and are profoundly discouraged.

Toulouse is declared in a state of siege.

The Commune has ordered the restoration of money taken from the gas company.

NEW YORK, April 24.—A special from Paris late last night says the armistice enables the inhabitants of Neuilly to leave their cellars. It lasts till ten o'clock Monday morning. The Nationals complain that the inhabitants of Neuilly fired on them. A barricade is begun in Rue Royale.

A special from Versailles, Sunday, say Dombrowski made a night attack on the barricade at Asnieres, which was carried; then attacked the second barricade, but was repulsed with great slaughter by the heavy fire of 12-pounders and mitrailleurs. His troops were also driven from the first barricade.

A strong desire for reconciliation prevails in Paris.

It is reported that the Versaillists are in possession of Charenton and Nogent, and it is expected they will be in St. Denis to-morrow.

PARIS, April 24.—Cluseret reports the suspension of hostilities at Neuilly at noon to-day.

Affairs at Asnieres are excellent. No great movements yet. Immense defensive measures are prepared. Torpedoes are laid at the railway station, and batteries at Rue Castillian.

The churches of St. Roche and St. Sulphice are re-opened, and the churches liberated.

Thiers received Masons who asked for an armistice. He said L'Admirault would grant a truce when necessary, but the Commune would never be recognized.

The Versaillists are erecting immense works at at Chatill.

Count Moltke has given notice that he will make a line of fortifications to guarantee against all attacks in occupied provinces of France, until the indemnity is fully paid, and the regular Government firmly recognized.

VERSAILLES, April 24.—An attack has not commenced yet. Valerien slowly cannonaded. Insurgent troops are arming.

The rumor that the Government occupies Charenton is untrue.

Because of the difficulties between the Prussians and Communists the former stopped supplies at St. Denis yesterday.

Dispatch from Berlin.

BERLIN, April 24.—Parliament has passed a loan bill.

Prince Bismarck stated in the House to day that although the French should pay the first installment of the indemnity immediately, the forts north and east of Paris would not be evacuated until a final treaty of peace was concluded.

Negotiations at Brussels make slow progress. The French are trying to get better conditions, but Germany is inflexible. The movement of the Commune has entailed sacrifices on Germany, but she would not meddle with the internal affairs of France.

HAMBURG, April 24.—In consequence of the agreement between the French and Germans, the transports which were waiting here to convey the French prisoners back to France, have been obliged to return to Havre empty.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Mexican Claims Commission.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Regular sessions of the American-Mexican Commission were resumed to-day. The term of the Commission, as fixed by convention, will expire next February.

Advices from Mexico say that Presiden Juarez is anxious for an extension of time, and hence there will be no difficulty in procuring it, as but few of the many cases have been settled.

There is no truth in the statement that President Grant will send a special envoy to Mexico to negotiate an additional convention, and therefore the news of Caleb Cushing in that connection is unauthorized. That gentleman, however, said some time ago that if there was any necessity for his serving in that behalf, he would go to Mexico; but last week he informed a friend that there now seems no occasion for the journey.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Passed west, J. J. Hoffman, wife and two children for Portland; George Haines, Lewisburg, Oregon; Mrs. Lampson, Oregon.

Grumblers.

A very large, very respectable, and very knowing class of misanthropes rejoice in the name of Grumblers,—persons who are sure that the world is going to ruin that they resent every attempt to comfort them as an insult to their sagacity, and accordingly seek their chief consolation in being inconsolable, their chief pleasure in being displeased. Their raven croak drowns all melodies of lark and linnet. Indeed, like Jacques, "They can suck melancholy out of a song, as a weazel sucks eggs." It is to them we are doubtless indebted for that phrase which includes all our actions and all the circumstances of our being in this world, under the general term of "the concerns of life." Doleful and crabbed, their conversation is a succession of ominous prophecies emitted in a series of growls. Mad at the infatuation of those simpletons who insist on feeling cheered by cheerful things, they gruffly hint of the tempests which are cradled in the sunshine and the calm. You meet one of them in the street, and in a gush of delight at the heavenliness of the weather, venture the suggestion that it is a fine day. "Yes," he replies, "one of those infernal storm-breeders!" Such a creature having no other comfort than a kind of fretful satisfaction in finding fault, you make him hopelessly miserable when you leave him no shadow of a cause for complaint. Thus Charles Lamb speaks of one of his companions who, in the game of whist, was always grumbling because he had so few trumps. By some artifice in dealing, the whole thirteen were once given him, in the hope that some sound of glee might be audible through his instinctive grunt; but after examining his hand attentively, he looked more wretched than ever. "Well, Tom," said Lamb, "haven't you not enough trumps now?" "Yes," was the growling answer, "but I've got no other cards!" Indeed, discontent, in the confirmed grumbler, is literally a complaint—a settled disease of the mind. All his perceptions of nature and life being twisted and distorted into the shape of his own wretched fancies, he can see nothing as it is. Obstinate in absurdity, you cannot tempt or coax him into sense. "He is as stiff as a poker," said a friend of one of these unreasoning dogmatists. "Stiff as a poker!" was the reply; "why, he would set an example to a poker!" Dejection in the heart is thus apt to become stupidity in the head; and against stupidity heaven and earth fight in vain." In fact, the grumbler cultivates his crabbed folly as a conscientious duty, and swaggers and swells on the strength of it, as if to be a snarling bore was to reach the summit of human excellence, and to grow in stupidity was to grow in grace. "Sir," said Dr. Johnson in reference to one of this class—"Sir, Sherry is dull, naturally dull; but he must have taken a great deal of pains to become what we now see him. Such an excess of stupidity is not in nature, Sir. I am willing to allow him all the merit for it he can claim."—Success and its Conditions. E. P. Whipple.

On the 5th of this month there were 503 vessels lying in the harbor of New York awaiting departure for coast and foreign ports. Of these 66 were ocean steamers, 57 ships, 107 barks, 88 brigs, and 185 schooners.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

PARIS, April 24.—No suspension of hostilities to-day. The Communists' newspapers predict a concentrated attack to-morrow.

LONDON, April 25.—A News special says Thiers has resolved to bombard Paris when the forts are delivered.

The insurgents made a sortie Sunday towards Chatillon and captured a barricade, but were repulsed with heavy loss. Donay replaced Durot.

The Times says Thiers had a long interview yesterday with the Prince of Saxony and General Fabrice.

The Versaillists occupy Fort Charenton.

There is a strong reaction in provinces favorable to Napoleon, while a number of Deputies desire Aumale to be President of the Republic.

EASTERN STATES.

Inundation in Louisiana.

NEW YORK, April 25.—A dispatch from New Orleans last night says the city is filled with rumors of crevasses in the levy and a probable inundation. A careful inquiry reduces the number of crevasses from which danger is anticipated to four—Poverty Point, Wallace's plantation, Bonnet Carre's, and Nara plantations. To-night three of these are reported under control, leaving the break at Bonnet Carre, the one to be combatted. Here the danger is great and imminent. The waters of the Mississippi are rushing through an opening 700 feet wide with a roaring sound audible for miles, flowing through a channel 50 feet deep, far into the vacant lands, and the levee is rapidly crumbling into the boiling waters. No efforts can now close the crevasse, and as soon as the flood has cut its way into the lake, the latter will overflow the whole rear portion of New Orleans. The Latest news is that the Bonnet Carre crevasse is still extending. 12 miles of the Jackson Railroad washed away. 2 other crevasses, one at Point Manoir west of Baton Rouge and one on McDonough estate below the city, are reported.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Legal Tender Decision.

NEW YORK, April 25th.—The Tribune Washington special says, the Decision of the Supreme Court in Legal Tender cases, will be announced in open court Monday next. Opinions will not be delivered until the December meeting of courts, in order that Judges may have time to perfect them. It is positively asserted that the decision will reverse the former decision by deciding the Legal Tender act constitutional, and that contracts made prior to the war have been fulfilled by payment of greenbacks.

Cabinet Rumors.

NEW YORK, April 25th.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent telegraphs, that it is authoritatively announced that a successor has at last been found for Fish. The next secretary of State will either be ex-Senator Morgan or Ex-Attorney Gen. Evarts; probable the latter. The change not be made immediately.

The Joint High Commission have made such progress within the past few days that it is authoritatively stated that they will finish their duties on Wednesday or Thursday next. The Commissioners are now engaged in preparing a treaty, all points between the parties having been agreed to except certain matters which are still under discussion by the British Government. The report that there was to be a separate treaty for each: the Alabama claims and fishery question, San Juan boundary, etc., is not true. All cases will be embraced in one treaty, and if one is rejected all will be, and that is the settlement of the question. The American Commissioners will not be dissolved until after the treaty is disposed of by the Senate, and the English Commissioners will probably remain here until the close of the Senate debate on the subject. The treaty will not be made public by the State Department.

Decision on the Income Tax.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The recent opinion by the Supreme Court in the case of Day vs. Buffington, in which it was held that the salary of a Judge of a State Court was not liable to income tax, was brought before the Commissioner of internal revenue for the decision of a very important question as to the liability of other State officers to pay income tax on salaries.

The opinion referred to was based on the argument that if the right of the general government to tax salaries is once admitted, then the State judiciary might be taxed out of all existence. Other State officers appeal from assessments made upon salaries, holding that the argument applies to their cases as well as to judges. The question involved is an extremely important one, as the decision on cases now pending similar to that already given would probably be followed by a demand from all parts of the country for drawbacks of all tax on salaries paid since the income tax law passed. The question would also be raised as to the legality of the income tax on fees of sheriffs and other officers whose salaries are not fixed.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The coroner found no trace of organic disease in the post mortem examination on Miss Cook, M. D., and the contents of the stomach are now being analyzed. It is almost certain she committed suicide.

Hon. Thos. Findley is in town and confident of receiving (Democratic) gubernatorial nomination.

Stocks are weaker this afternoon and symptoms of a heavy decline are rather strongly manifested. A number of leading fancies had only been kept up for some time by sales from one broker to another,—outsiders respectfully declining to invest.

Notwithstanding the Mayor's veto of the Lake Tahoe Water Bill, offers for all the stock the company proposes to issue at present have been made by capitalists, and the Works will positively go on.

Weather dry, dusty and cold,—a northwester blowing all night and day.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The jury in the Fair case not being allowed to separate, march around in a body, call on their families each in succession, accompanied by a deputy sheriff. To-day the court having adjourned on account of the funeral of a sister in-law of one of the jurors, the other eleven attended the funeral with him.

By directions of the Arch Bishop of the Catholic clergy, exhorting congregations against attending Sunday picnics, the outrages perpetrated by those attending them having become a public scandal and disgrace to the community.

The old Pacific Hotel, on Pacific street, between Front and Davis streets, a three story frame building, and a row of old frame structures running through to Clark street, terminating in a stable, burned this evening.

A number of poor families were compelled to move in such haste, that they lost the greater part of their effects. It is impossible to ascertain any certainty as to the amount of damage done, but it will not probably exceed $12 or $15,000; it may fall under ten. The fire broke out in the centre block, the buildings being very old frame structures and dry as tinder, the fire fanned by high wind, blazed up with great rapidity, lighting up the entire city in a few minutes. Nevertheless, the fire-department got it under control very quickly. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Male and female woman suffragists are giving a small audience at the Young Mens Christian Association rooms, this evening, their excuse for demonstrative sympathy for Mrs. Fair and attendance during the entire trial.

Byrne will make an argument to-morrow, as brief as possible, there is no doubt the case will go to jury to-morrow evening.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

GRASS VALLEY, April 25.—This morning it was discovered that John G. Reutschler and his wife, who kept a saloon, were both found dead in their house, and their bodies covered with blood. The woman was in her night clothes, and was evidently in bed when she received her wound. The man was partially undressed. The woman after receiving a wound evidently ran into the room adjoining her room and fell down and died. A Colt's six shooter, with three chambers empty, was found on the table at the head of the bed, and no signs of any third party having been present at the time of shooting, the opinion is that the man shot the woman and then killed himself.

Later.—An examination of the bodies shows that the woman must have shot the man and afterwards killed herself by cutting her arms with an old butcher knife. Her left arm is sawed to the bone, just above the elbow, and her right arm, below the elbow, is terribly lacerated. Her bloody footprints show that she put the pistol on the table after firing the shot. The man was shot in the stomach.

PACHECO, April 25.—The store of Hale & Bros. was entered by burglars last night and a quantity of clothing stolen.

SAN JOSE, April 25.—The furniture warehouse of J. B. Price was entered by burglars between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning. The safe, weighing 600 pounds, was carried to the yard in the vicinity where it was broken open, and the contents, consisting of $17, a watch valued at $100, and a ring, books and papers, were left in the safe. No clue to the perpetrators. Supposed to be roughs from San Francisco.

A man named Savage, who came here on an excursion train from San Francisco last Sunday, became involved in a difficulty here last night with a Spaniard who cut Savage's throat, barely escaping the jugular vein. The wounded man lies in the station house in a critical condition.

COLUSA, April 25.—About 10 o'clock this morning, the body of Edwin R. Samuels, formerly of Kirksville, Missouri, was found floating in the river just below town. He is supposed to have committed suicide.

SAN DIEGO, April 25.—Dr. Williams, of this city, lately discovered twenty-seven opals of fine quality at some point in this county, the secret of which he does not disclose.

CURRENT NOTES.

Merchants of Boston have organized an association to test the income tax in the Courts. Ex-Judge Clifford is President of it.

More than 5,500 voters neglected to vote in St. Louis at the late election. Only 19,854 ballots were deposited, while in the election for Congressmen, in 1868, 25,525 votes were cast.

A letter was received by the Acting Secretary of the Treasury, a few days since, dated San Francisco, March 3, 1871, as follows: "Enclosed find $25, due United States Treasury." The money was placed to the credit of the "conscience fund."

Barnum has again started in the show business, this time on a grander scale than ever. The New York Times says his traveling exhibition, which consists of museum, circus and menagerie, all in one, is the most varied and extensive affair of the kind ever got together. It will require five hundred men and horses to move it, and the intention of the proprietor is to take it all over the country.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations have considered a letter from the Secretary of State urging action in the Darien ship-canal treaty. The Secretary represents that the Government of the United States of Colombia, with which the treaty was negotiated, is anxious to have the United States dispose of the matter at an early day. The committee have agreed to report the treaty to the Senate and let that body act on it.

A recent traveler in Palestine thus describes an experience which those who have shared it are in little danger of forgetting: "Bathing in the Dead Sea produces a novel sensation as if you found yourself suddenly endowed with wings, and emulating the feats of a tumbler pigeon in mid-air. You become a clumsy float, a top-heavy buoy, a swollen cork, the instant you are in its waters, and arms, legs and body are apparently endowed with the strangest qualities. It is as if heavy weights were affixed to each directly you attempt to move, and experienced swimmers fail in their best strokes, by reason of the unnatural buoyancy with which they have to contend. Your limbs are on the surface, and you cleave the air with your hands the moment you try to swim, and the man who would be drowned as soon as he was out of his depth in any other sheet of water in the world is the one best fitted for bathing in the Dead Sea. He cannot sink in it, let him do what he will. It is as if he were incased in life-belts, or sprawling on a feather bed. If he lean back and throw his feet up it is exactly as if he were resting in a peculiarly well-stuffed easy chair, with a leg-rest to match. He may fold his arms, turn on one side, lie flat upon his stomach or back, clasp his knees with both hands, or draw toes and head together, in the shape the human body would assume if crammed hastily into a jar with its extremities left out, and with no more possibility of sinking than if he were in so much soft sand. Woe to him if he be tempted by these unusual faculties to stay long in the water with his head uncovered! The bare and rocky walls of the low-lying cauldron which holds the Sea of Death reflects back the burning sun and concentrates its rays, and a coup de soleil will be the all but inevitable consequence of his imprudence. Two of our party entered the water and remained in it some seconds before they recovered their heads, and the result was severe, shooting pains, sickness and dizziness, which lasted until their immersion, an hour later, in the refreshing waters of the Jordan. Woe, too, to the inexperienced stranger, who, following his rule in other bathing, dips his head as well as his body into the Red Sea. Inflamed eyes and nostrils, together with hair and beard laden with acrid salts, are among the penalties of his rashness; while if he taste its waters, he becomes acquainted with a greater concentration of nastiness than had entered into his imagination before. In buoyancy and bitterness the Sea of Sodom exceeded all we had heard or read respecting it; but in some other particulars our anticipations were falsified surprisingly. We looked for gloom, and we found brightness; we had imagined turbid waters, and we found a lake exquisitely clear and delicately blue; we expected perfect silence and an unbroken waste, and we found the birds singing sweetly among the tamarisks and oleanders, which spring up wherever a stream finds its way from the mountains to mingle with the mysterious inland sea.

STOMACHS AND PATRIOTISM.—No better illustration can be given of the complete demoralization of the army of the Seine than there is contained in the recital of the following incident, which occurred just before the armistice:

Two Prussia dragoons, venturing too far beyond their own lines, found themselves suddenly surrounded by a haggard crowd of Gardes Mobiles. One of the two Prussians could speak French, and one of the Gardes was an Alsatian, and understood German. Therefore, both parties were in a favorable way to argue the question fairly. The two Prussians refused to give themselves up as prisoners of war, saying, "If we go with you we will be a great deal worse off than we are now; but if you come with us you will be a great deal better off than you are now. It won't do you any good to take us prisoners. It won't put food in your mouths, nor warm you, nor clothe you. But if you let us take you prisoners, you will be cared for and treated exactly as our men are, and all your hardships and danger, and fighting for nothing will be over!" Despite French patriotism, French stomachs triumphed, and the Mobiles followed in the wake of the two dragoons into the Prussians camp. Long and loud, but good humored, was the laughter that greeted the appearance of the two captors and their captives. When the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg heard of it he exclaimed, "That was diplomacy," and straightway sent the two amateur diplomatists a very handsome present.

Rough on Gov. Haight.

There is furious opposition among California Democrats to the renomination of Gov. Haight. A correspondent of the Sonoma Democrat, himself of course a Democrat, writes a very forcible and pointed letter against the renomination. He reviews the Governor's political career with ability, and shows a remarkable aptitude in the use of military illustrations to add force to his arguments. We make room for the following pointed allusions to His Excellency's course:

If Democracy would avoid the dangers of a siege, she must not give command to a General whose only [illegible] may prove a second Sedan; and she must [illegible] refuse control of her armies to [illegible] Garibaldi's who insist on the occupation [illegible] Railroad Saarbruckens.

Democracy wants no leader who, when attacked, will think of retreating to a political block-house. We want no [illegible] whose magazines are open to the [illegible] hot shot from the enemy's guns. We want no one who promised our people relief from the curse of coolie serfdom, and failed to redeem his pledges.

We want no one who pledged relief from an iniquitous Registry law, yet refused to keep his promises.

We want no one who, whilst inveighing against the tyranny of the bayonet over the ballot-box, was the first to call upon the bayonet to exercise that tyranny at the polls.

We want no one who, whilst professing violent opposition to subsidies, could yet find authority in the Constitution to give them his official sanction.

We want no one who, whilst clamorous for reform, has given his official aid to acts, by which the fees and salaries of nearly every official in the State are doubled, or more than doubled.

To be successful, the Democratic party must be just. Its warfare must be in the field—it must be aggressive, as truth ever is; but this warfare must be against the enemies, and not among the friends, of the Democratic party. The people hate policy, and love principle. They admire a bold man, and despise an intriguer.

WEDNESDAY MORNING APRIL 1871

Waiting for a 'Reaction

Since 1860 the Democratic party has been continually looking for a popular reaction, and at every approaching election has been hailing the signs and anticipating the fruits The managers as the Cincinnati Gazette pithily observes seemed to think that the supremacy of the Democratic party was the normal state, and that the ascendency of the Republican party was an accidental variation in the course of nature, an abnormal state, which the operation of the natural forces would soon remove It was this expectation of reaction that encouraged their confederates in the South to persevere It was this that led the Democratic leaders in the North to hold out to Lord Lyons the promise of a time when foreign intervention would be judicious and welcome It was this that led the Confederates to think that if they could invade the North in large force there would be a Democratic uprising in their favor It was this that Vallandigham prophesied when he declared that the day that witnessed the separation of the North and South, that self same day would witness the final separation of the West from the East

It was this expectation of a popular reaction that led the Democratic party to its blunders in the Presidential elections blunders which are now unanimously confessed And upon this expectation they have, at every election, exhibited a nature which convinced the people that the issue of the election was between peace and a new revolution Every falling off of Republican majorities and the sanguine gathering at every Democratic convention, persuaded them that this popular reaction had begun, and that now the tried and true Democrats were to be rewarded for their long exclusion. And accordingly they exhibited a nature which aroused the people to save the government from falling into their hands

And still the party is looking for the popular reaction, and still the ever renewing confidence that it is at hand brings to the surface the features and persons most odious to the people, and thus repeats its defeat. Are there any signs of this reaction to be seen in the results of the elections? Or is there any sign of sagacity in the management of the Democratic party to bring about this reaction? It is not visible in the elections nor does the management offer any indication of improvement Generally it presents itself as the defender and confederate of the Ku Klux bands and thus constitutes them most effective electioneerers for the Republican party

There is much talk of fitting the Democratic party with a new character, and with popular candidates for the Presidential canvass The thing is proposed as glibly as one would talk of changing the Ethiopian's skin It is supposed the party may be made to take on a new set of principles and a new shape, and to select for its candidate such a Republican statesman as Charles Francis Adams, or Salmon P Chase, or David A. Wells, or Jacob D Cox or even as Charles Sumner And some wiseacres say that if the Democratic party would but accept the settlement of the issues of the war, abandon the pretended right of secession, accept the constitutional amendments and negro suffrage, support the public faith in the war debt, and devote itself to reforms of administration, taking up some Republican for a candidate for President, it might succeed And Tilton's Green and Golden Age says that with such provisions its success would be a national blessing

When the sky falls it will be a fine time to catch larks What are the signs of all this change in the Democratic party? It is only when the devil is sick that he would turn monk The Democratic party is always at the beginning of a popular reaction which is going to bring it into power without repentance It is always realizing upon this expectation and bringing to the front its most obnoxious features to enjoy the fruition And there is every reason to expect that it will continue to do just what it has been doing for the last ten years and that it will furnish the electioneerers who will elect the Republican candidates and keep up the Republican ascendency There are those who will hang themselves if they only have rope enough Every bight of rope which the Democratic party gets into its hands by means of a local success, or an appearance of popular apathy, or of Republican dissension, it swiftly applies to the strangling of its own chances The reason of all this is that the Democratic leaders wholly fail to comprehend the character of the American people

From statements furnished by Minnesota papers it appears that the Northern Pacific Railroad bids fair to rival the rapidity of construction that marked the progress of the Union Pacific. At last dates the grading was nearly finished for 266 miles from Lake Superior through central Minnesota, to the eastern border of Dakota trains are running over 130 miles of track, the Mississippi river is bridged at Brainerd, and by September next trains will be running to Red river and the grading will be far advanced toward the great bend of the Missouri. Including its purchase of the St. Paul and Northern Pacific the Northern Pacific has 413 miles of road in operation.

Latest advices from California represent the crop prospects not materially improved The Stockton Independent of the 17th inst, says "It is quite certain that under the most favorable circumstances now possible the grain and hay crop of the State will be light and if favorable showers do not continue to fall the failure may yet prove to be a very serious matter to a large number of farmers and to the State at large" No rains have fallen in the interior since the date of the Independent's article

A telegram from Washington furnishes an intelligible statement of the grounds on which the Supreme Court recently decided a Federal tax on the incomes of State judges unconstitutional This statement is very different from those made by some of the Eastern newspapers, and shows that the opinion of the Court rests on solid and perfectly conclusive reasons.

A Washington special states that the San Juan boundary case is the most perplexing subject which has been before the Joint High Commission It has been made difficult and complicated, and has caused more research and examination than any other question discussed

On the 10th inst the New York Tribune completed the thirtieth year of its existence, having been started on the 10th April 1841 The total cost of its publication the first week was $525 Now, the cost is nearly $20,000 per week, and is still rapidly increasing.

A "New Departure" Platform

Some weeks ago a "New Departure" platform was recommended to the Republican party by some sachems who assembled at Cincinnati A few days afterwards a mass meeting was called to set the ball in motion. The meeting was a small one, only some 300 being present. Judge Matthews and J. D. Cox were the principal speakers The planks in their proposed platform are concisely as follows

1 A general amnesty
2 A system of tariff taxation for revenue only
3 The adoption of a civil service system
4 A restoration of specie payments

It will be easy enough for the Republican party to accept all the planks of this platform except the second which cannot be accepted as a party issue without a wider latitude of interpretation than is placed upon it by its framers and exponents.

We believe as a contemporary well expresses it, in a tariff primarily for revenue but a tariff levied for revenue only, without regard to the immense industrial interests to be affected by the adjustment of duties on foreign imports would be the most disastrous economical and political experiment which was ever inflicted on any country

Now that the season for improvements is at hand and many improvements are in progress, would it not be well to hurry up the street railroad? Is the Council ready to act?

Special Legislation "

A SNUG LITTLE JOB—OUR DEMOCRATIC SENATOR COMES TO THE FRONT

The Walla Walla Union of Saturday last has the following article which shows that the first attempt of our Democratic Senator to earn his salary was the introduction by him of a piece of "special legislation," with a dirty job in it We give the Union's article entire

So far as heard from the latest "grab that has been attempted on Uncle Sam's land, is the one that Senator Kelly of Oregon, made a short time since It seems that James Ku Klux' has introduced a memorial to allow a certain gentleman in this county to pre-empt a quarter section of land, which falls within the lines of the Government reserve, about one mile southwest of this city Upon this piece of land sought to be pre-empted, stands Uncle Sam's garrison buildings, known as Fort Walla Walla This fort cost Uncle Sam untold thousands of dollars, and, if put up at auction would bring a large amount of money—more than enough to pay the Senator's per diem should his official term be stretched out as long in proportion as his legs are But as the Senator is speculating in canal and lock property in Oregon, why should he not invest in garrison property in this Territory?

If the bill passes we have no doubt that the Honorable Senator will be the principal owner of the property and will change the name of the post from Fort Walla Walla to Fort Kelly

One thing that looks a little strange is, that when a year or two since parties made settlement on the hay reserve, they were forcibly put off by the same person who now memorializes Congress for the privilege of pre-empting a piece of property worth one hundred times as much as was the portion claimed by either one of the late jumpers At the time that the jumpers were put off, the act was applauded and sanctioned by every one except those immediately interested It was then thought to be an act prompted by a desire to preserve the property of the Government but from the late developments it would seem that the object was so that this very efficient Government agent might have the first grab It would seem to be a strange stroke of policy, after paying a man a salary for several years for taking care of the Government property to allow him to lay claim to the whole of it But if the Government is generous enough to give a man fifty or a hundred thousand dollars worth of property, he certainly should not be so ungracious as not to accept the present We presume he will not be, and that, if he is allowed to pre-empt the garrison, he will "homestead" the hay reserve, and thus be provided for.

The thing looks very nice from this stand point but why so large an amount of the people's property, built with the people's money, should be given to one individual who has no particular claim over any other member of society, is not quite so easily understood We hope that when Senator Kelly makes his speech on this memorial he will send us a copy This being a Democratic move, we must presume it to be all honest, as the Republicans are the only ones who rob or swindle the Government This nicely arranged little "job" is likely to be interfered with by some meddlesome Republican, and if it does not work out the Democracy will not be blameable for it.

This is about the first time that James K Kelly has made his mark in the Senate, and if he keeps up his lick at the rate he has started in, he will have all the school land, garrisons and "sich, gobbled up before his time expires You are right, Jeems, make hay while the sun shines so that when you retire from the office that you have so early disgraced you and all your friends may be independent of the Government

THE TERRITORIES

A new court house and jail are to be built at Walla Walla

The fruit crop in Walla Walla promises to be the most valuable ever raised there

Montana advices state that the small streams are higher than since 1865, resulting from the melting of the snow

The Wyoming papers say that the people of that Territory are about to "abandon woman suffrage as both mischievous and impracticable"

The railroad survey develops the fact that the descent from Walla Walla to Wallula is forty feet to the mile for the whole distance

Montana holds her election on the first Monday in August. It is quite likely that the Democrats will renominate Cavanaugh for Delegate to Congress

A man named Walton has been convicted at Lewiston, of the murder of another man named Yates, and will receive the penalty of death by hanging

Six ladies wives of some of the leading citizens of Cheyenne, have been empannelled as petit jurors at the term of the U. S. District Court, now in session in that city

From the Boise Statesman Work on the assay office is being driven ahead as fast as circumstances will permit A force of fifteen men is employed John McBride estimates that the building will be completed and ready for the reception of the assay works in about six weeks

PERSONAL NOTES

A Stockholm correspondent writes that not less than 50 persons are suspected of having poisoned the King of Sweden, but no one of them can be sufficiently implicated to warrant arrest, much less trial

Gen Changarnier the French veteran 78 years old this month is stated to be so much oppressed by the troubles of his unhappy country that he is sinking rapidly, and his death may be expected any day

John Ruskin fully exculpates Bismarck and Louis Napoleon from any and all responsibility for the late war, declaring that Louis IX. and his brother were the real cause of the contest If Ruskin were to reflect a little longer, couldn't he put the blame on Childeric and Clovis?

The widow of John Brown lives in Humboldt County Cal, with her son Salmon, and her daughters Sarah and Ellen Annie, who was with her father at Harper's Ferry, is married in California. The two sons, John and Jason, live in Ohio, Owen in Pennsylvania and Ruth remains at the old place in North Elba

OREGON

The Coos Bay Wagon Road Company are negotiating for the sale of their land grant

An exciting school meeting was held at Salem on Monday evening The advocates of free schools carried their point by a large majority, and a three mill tax was voted

From the Statesman We learn from Capt J F. Miller that he has sold his 3,000 acres of land in Yamhill county, to S G Reed, of Portland for $45 000 and the stock utensils and tools bring about $7000 more He reserves the spring clip of wool and about 2 000 bushels of grain on hand.

The Annual Commencement Exercises at Pacific University (Forest Grove) will begin on the evening of the 2d of May with an address before the Alumni Association by M F Mulkey, Esq of Portland On the 3d at eleven o'clock there will be an address by Rev Dr Lindsley of Portland, with other exercises A general attendance of the Alumni is desired

From the Roseburg Ensign We are informed that Frank Fletcher, who until recently was engaged as mail-carrier between Roseburg and Randolph on his last trip received nearly two hundred dollars from Chris Lehnherr and other parties on the Coquille, to deliver to parties in this valley Upon his return to Roseburg on the 4th inst, instead of performing his trust and delivering the money, he took the stage going south, obsquatulated, and is now doubtless safely beyond the reach of those he has wronged

WHEAT SCARCE.—Until recently it was supposed by those who had not the exact means of knowing the facts, that there must be in the interior of this valley a considerable surplus of wheat, to come forward after the spring seeding season should be over. Within the last few days we have conversed with several parties who have accurate information in regard to the matter, having visited the valley over either in person or by agents; and they all concur in the statement that probably not enough could now be obtained to make a cargo, after loading the vessels now under charter. The two or three cargoes to go away, were purchased some time ago, and the grain is lying in store—mostly in warehouses along the river—to be sent down when wanted no faster than it can be put on ship board. The fact that wheat is getting scarce, is pretty well known among buyers, there was just before the reported decline in Liverpool, quite a scramble for such lots as were obtainable; and we hear of one party who purchased at Salem, the other day at the extreme figure of $1 30 a bushel. The buyer will lose heavily on the wheat, as he can now ship and realize anywhere near the cost, and he can scarcely save himself by holding it. It is probable that no further attempt will be made to purchase wheat for foreign shipment until after harvest, and except for local consumption, will henceforth, for two or three months, will be of but little importance to anybody.

REAL ESTATE CONUNDRUM.—Nothing occurs in the daily routine of life here, more amusing than the astonishment displayed upon the countenances of people from the interior of the State, when told of the prices at which real estate is bought and sold in this city and at East Portland. They can't, at first, quite believe it, and when the truth sinks in they declare they can't understand it. It's a conundrum of the first water. The other day a gentleman who was talking of the matter to another from the interior, explained the matter, thus: "The fact is, we have got here a smart, thriving and wide awake city, the people of which have caught the first glimpses of the good time coming for Oregon, and they are going to have some of it." The interior man shook his head and contemplatively and passed on; he still could not see it. Some of these days, however, he will wake up and find that the conundrum expounder was right.

FARM LANDS—ACTIVE DEMAND.—Just at present there is a very active movement in farming lands. Sales are effected to large amounts almost daily by the real estate brokers of this city. We hear of several large and valuable farms sold through the agency of Messrs. Stitzel & Upton, for cash; and one 3,600 acre tract sold through the agency of Messrs Russell, Ferry & Woodward. The average price for farms, partly under cultivation, is from $12 to $15, while some of them have cost the purchasers as high as $40 per acre. The latter were, however, very choice farms, under extensive cultivation, and with valuable improvements. Wild lands can be had within a few miles of the city for much less money.

FEES FOR RECORDING.—Mr. Parrish, County Clerk, requests us to state that hereafter he wants his fees for recording deeds, etc., paid at the time of filing the papers. He has all along taken occasion to "make it all right,"—promises that do not seem to have been remembered by the parties, and now he finds that there is a very large amount of such fees charged up which to collect is about as much, in trouble and time, as it is worth.

O. & C. R. R.—The track laying beyond Albany, has been performed to a point near the hundred mile stake.

WRECKED IN THE RAGING WALLAMET.—A couple of our townsmen were cast away, yesterday, in the turbulent waters of the Wallamet between Ross' Island and the mainland, west-side, and were only rescued after suffering the dire perils of the skookum chuck. Mr. Phil. Wyman and Mr. Keller—two citizens whom we are not prepared to lose just yet, started to cross from the Island to this side in a little bit of a skiff—Mr. Wyman at the oars and Mr. Keller at the helm. Mr. Keller is not exactly a light weight man, and after he got into the tiny craft; there was not much of his end of it out of water; but with genuine salt-water pluck the two started out among the waves which were running as high as the "historic" breakers of the Erie canal when that body of water is lashed into fury by a nor'west ziphyr. When the adventurers had got about midway the stream, a wave which came rushing along, a full quarter of an inch higher than any of its predecessors, dashed over the gunwale and down went the hapless craft, with all on board—down, down, till Keller floated and Wyman's shirt collar was to wet for further use, in this world. The situation was perilous as well as moist, and both the castaways began to call lustily for help which fortunately was near at hand. A couple of boats put out from the mainland and rescued them, not exactly from a watery grave—it had n't come to that, quite—but from a "demnition cold, damp, disagreeable," involuntary bath.

PASSENGERS FOR OREGON —The N. P. T. Co.'s steamship Pacific sailed from San Francisco yesterday, for Portland, with the following list of passengers

J P Strong and family, Rev A Laubach, wife and children, Rev H Taylor, Thos Turnie and wife, J W Oglesby, Dr F B Gildersleeve U S A, Miss Eyre, Mrs A Baker, Miss A Berge, William Griffith and children, W G Fradley, G H Brown and wife, George Shearer, J E Smith and wife, L Simm, W J Hall, J P Hogue, H L Van Praag, A Flinn, D C Pearson, J Dobinson and wife.

FINISHING TOUCHES.—The O. & C. Railroad Company's floating pile driver was employed yesterday in driving a row of long piles along the face of the steamship wharf and depot at Clinton's Point. These piles are to serve not only as fenders for vessels lying alongside, but as moorings.

RETURNING HOME.—The dispatches announce that J. J. Hoffman and family of this city passed Ogden yesterday, en route for Oregon. The other Oregon passengers were George Haines and Mrs. Lampson. Col. W. W. Chapman of Portland and Thos. Cross of Salem, passed the day before.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, Judge —In re J. M. Coulter, in bankruptcy, motion to expunge proof of debt of Uzafovage & Wright; argued and submitted. Fechheimer for motion; Thompson & Bellinger contra.

The Court adjourned till Friday next.

FIRE AT OREGON CITY.—The following dispatch was received from Oregon City yesterday afternoon: "Dr. Saffaran's house on F street has just caught fire. The companies are out and the fire will soon be subdued. It caught from the stovepipe."

COMMISSIONER OF DEEDS —Mr. A S. Gross, of this city has been appointed by the Governor of California, a Commissioner of Deeds for that State, to reside in Portland.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Having recently been called by the "Young Men's Christian Association" to act as its Secretary, and also as City Missionary, I find myself at the rooms of the Association receiving calls from strangers, mostly young men in search of work. While the Association does not keep an intelligence office, or conduct a labor exchange institution, it does try to render assistance, and acting as its agent I would gladly give information to all who may come seeking for employment. That this may be readily done, I hereby invite all those who desire help to meet those who are after work at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, No. 1, Ladd & Tilton's bank building. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 7 to 9 P. M.—

W. R. JOYSLIN, Secretary.

AMUSEMENTS.

A SUNDAY SENSATION.—Mr. James Cook has announced his voyage in a wash-tub to take place next Sunday. He will start with his goose train and moral craft, from Ross' Island, at 11 o'clock A. M., and will drive to the East Portland ferry landing, promising to make the voyage in one hour. Thence he will proceed to the East Portland Park, and at 3 o'clock will perform his great rope walking feat. A band of music will play during the afternoon, for dancing on the platform. It strikes us that this bill will afford sensation, novelty and amusement enough for one day.

THE FEMALE MAGICIAN.—Miss Cora De Lamond had another full house last evening, and as on the night before she succeeded in amusing her audience and sending them away quite well satisfied. As announced, the chief prize was twenty dollars in coin; and a large number of smaller prizes were distributed.

To-night a number of new tricks and more valuable prizes are promised.

CIRCUS.—It is stated that the circus company, a part of whom are now in this city, will open their summer campaign with a performance here about the middle of next month.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Wm. Davidson, Esq., the indefatigable real estate dealer, Portland, issued the first and only circular ever issued in Oregon in the German language. This he has sent broadcast to all the German States. Industry and enterprise will always win in the real estate business. Mr. D.'s office is besieged late and early with applicants to buy and sell lands and town property, who mean business.—Salem Mercury.

MASONIC BUILDING ASSESSMENT.—We are requested to state that the time for payment by stockholders of the Masonic Building Association, of the second assessment, has expired, and that delinquents to save trouble, ought to make immediate payment.

Press Comments on the President's San Domingo Message.

The Buffalo (N. Y.) Express says "The President in a few grave words gives a final rebuke to his unscrupulous assailants.

The Pittsburg (Pa) Gazette regards the message "as one of the most wonderful State papers that has ever been presented to the public as a message."

The Cleveland (Ohio) Herald says "We must, in defense of our own consistency, say that while the message and report are a most thorough vindication of the President, we are not yet converts to the annexation scheme."

The Rochester (N Y.) Democrat says. "President Grant stands to day stronger before the country than he did after Appomattox, and he has confounded his enemies quite as signally as he defeated the enemies of his country."

The Milwaukee (Wis) Sentinel says: "We believe the President's conduct in this whole transaction will bear the strictest scrutiny of his enemies, as it deserves, and is sure to receive, when it is fully understood, the cordial approbation of his friends."

The Cleveland (Ohio) Leader says "The official report contains absolutely nothing that, is new, and entirely fails to remove the main objections which have been urged by the opponents of annexation, or to add strength to the arguments relied upon in its favor," and calls the message "an honest, fair, straightforward document, creditable alike to the President's common sense and uprightintention."

The New York Times says "The President gives a manly and straightforward account of all the stages through which the San Domingo question has passed. Against the vague and unsupported allegations of his detractors he places a few simple and unvarnished facts."

The Erie (Pa) Dispatch says "While the message and report is a most complete vindication of the President, we are not yet ready to fall fully into the scheme of annexation. The benefits to the people of San Domingo are clear enough, but our own advantages are not so apparent."

The New York Tribune says: "Even the persistent efforts to misrepresent the personal motives influencing the President and his agents in the negotiation did not render the explanation necessary. * * * The message is a plain tale which will put to rest many malicious stories.

SENATOR MORTON'S SPEECH—ARRAIGNMENT OF THE DEMOCRATIC POLICY—DISASTROUS RESULTS OF THEIR TRIUMPH IN 1872—PRESIDENT GRANT'S ADMINISTRATION

We give below the speech of Senator Morton in Washington on April 8th, in response to the serenade by citizens of Indiana

FELLOW CITIZENS I should be quite insensible if I was not touched by the kind words of my friend, General Shanks To my Indiana friends who have tendered me the compliment of this serenade I am thankful Whether it is the offering of personal friendship, or an approval of my political course it is equally gratifying We are bound together, not only in our political sentiments but in love and admiration for that great and prosperous commonwealth from which we come that commonwealth which did its duty in the late war under difficulties that were peculiar and not altogether known to the rest of the country We are rapidly approaching another great contest but one not inferior in importance to those through which we have passed The Democratic party will make a desperate struggle for power, but it can succeed in electing a President only by carrying the Southern States, and it cannot carry all the Southern States except by establishing in them a reign of terror the effect of which, it hopes, will be to drive the Republicans into silence, submission or exile The great instrumentality which is being employed to create this reign of terror and effect this purpose is commonly called the Ku Klux organization. I will not say that all Democrats are members of that organization in the Southern States They are not—not even a majority, I hope—but I will say that all Ku Klux are Democrats, [Laughter and applause] that it is an organization inside of the Democratic party in the Southern States and that it is the great missionary society by which those States are to be converted to Democracy, if they are converted at all The instruments by which that organization [illegible] are murder, torture arson perjury and nearly all the crimes on the calendar The attention of the nation has recently been called to the existence and operation of this organization not only by the report of a special committee in the Senate but [illegible] of the President of the United States and the evidence has accumulated [illegible] every source, and it is not to be denied [illegible] by any candid or intelligent mind that in the Southern States there exists an organization inside of the Democratic party, having for its object to secure the ascendency of that party by the use of the means to which I have referred

[illegible] OF A DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS

[illegible] for a few moments to [illegible] what would be the inevitable result of [illegible] the Democratic party should they elect a President and get control of the Government In the first place they [illegible] succeed by carrying all the Southern States In that case the Southern Democracy will constitute a majority of the party and will as a matter of course dictate the policy of the party, and will control it as they have controlled it in the past Now I submit this question to intelligent men—Should the Southern Democracy come into power will they vote tax [illegible]? Will they vote appropriations to pay pensions to Northern soldiers and the widows and orphans of Northern soldiers and unless theirs at the same time are provided for? Does any intelligent man believe for a moment that when they are placed in power they would appropriate one [illegible] pensions except upon the condition that the soldiers of the Confederate Army and the widows and orphans, should be placed upon the same footing? [Cries of "No no"] That would perhaps be the first effect—the first result of the success of the Democratic party, and does any intelligent man believe that the Southern Democracy when placed in power, will tax themselves, will make appropriations to pay the interest and the principal of the national debt unless there is some provision made for the payment of their [illegible] invested their money, their [illegible] Confederate debt They lost [illegible] in addition to that they lost their slaves, [illegible] never tax themselves one cent, nor vote appropriations to the amount of one cent to pay the national debt that was contracted for their subjugation unless their debt is in some way provided for What, then will they ask at the hands of the Northern Democracy? What will they require? They will require that the United States shall assume and pay for the loss of their slaves, and we shall have added from fifteen hundred [illegible] thousand millions to the national debt. Will the Northern Democracy consent to this? I answer that they will If they can get power upon no other terms, they will consent to this or almost any other proposition. Besides this Northern Democracy are committed in principle and in declaration to the payment [illegible] slaves From the time that [illegible] his first proclamation [illegible] party has not failed to declare [illegible] legions of [illegible] years of declaration that party [illegible] that slavery is [illegible] and if brought [illegible] making payment [illegible] The sentiments of the [illegible] party in the work are all [illegible] toward this result and I am inclined to think that the large body of the Democracy would consent to pay the South for their slaves with more cheerfulness than they would consent to pay the national debt This then would be the second result of the triumph of the Democratic party, paying the South for their slaves and adding two thousand millions to the national debt Now my friends what will be the third result? It will be the disenfranchisement of the colored people and taking from them the right of suffrage When these Southern States pass into the hands of the Democratic party, and when the National Government passes into the hands of that party, they will be able to disfranchise the colored man in sixty days It would be attempted now by some of the Southern States if it were not for the restraining [illegible] of a Republican President, the fact that the National Government is in the hands of the Republican party But, if the State Governments and the National Government shall pass into their hands they having all the arms down there, having the military experience, would drive the colored men from the polls or compel them to vote their own disenfranchisement, and stripping the colored people of all their rights and reducing them, if not to slavery to the condition of serfdom, would be the third result of having the Democratic party in power

THE ISSUES OF 1872

Now my friends, what are the issues that we are called upon to try in 1872? Is reconstruction to be maintained? It was said in the Senate no longer ago than last Monday that the reconstruction laws were of no more value than if passed by a mob or a town meeting Shall the constitutional amendments be abolished? It was said in the Senate on the same day that these amendments were fraudulent The Democratic party nowhere has accepted them In no convention by no resolution by no concentration of sentiment in any State of this nation have they accepted of these sentiments But on the contrary with the exception here and there of a newspaper like the New York World [illegible] wiser than the most of its friends they [illegible] committed in implacable hostility to each and every one of these amendments The next issue is, shall the colored people be maintained in the enjoyment of equal political rights? Of that I have already spoken The Democratic party North and South, are committed unequivocally and inexorably against civil rights to the colored people and that is the question more, perhaps, than all others that will be at issue during the coming campaign The next issue will be shall the Republicans of the South live in peace? Shall they be protected in life, liberty and property in the Southern States? With the Republicans of the South that is the great all absorbing question to-day They are struggling for life, struggling for the mere privilege of living and enjoying their property There will be no other great leading issues in the next election

THE FINANCES AND TAXATION

The Democratic party say that they are opposed to national banks but they dare not say that they are in favor of restoring the old State banks They clamor in favor of free trade yet they dare not say that they are in favor of raising the money necessary to carry on the Government by direct taxation Direct taxes have to be apportioned among the several States under the constitution according to their population not according to their wealth, and in directing the taxes the States of the Northwest, having large populations and little wealth would pay large taxes while the States of the East having greater wealth and less population would pay smaller taxes The Democratic party dare not submit to the country the question of direct taxation They clamor about free trade and talk about repealing all taxes and relieving the people of the burdens of taxation presuming that the people have not intelligence enough to inquire how the money shall be raised to carry on the government In regard to the tariff the Democratic party has no respectable position whatever In the State of Maine they are in favor of the highest duty on coal which is the most obnoxious duty on the statute book In West ern Virginia they occupy the same position In Pennsylvania they are in favor of the highest duty on iron In Kentucky they are in favor of the highest duty on hemp In Texas and Louisiana of the highest duty on sugar In short, the Democratic party are in favor of high duties in every State where they have the power where they have any thing to protect and in favor of free trade in regard to everything else but dare not carry it out to its results [Applause and laughter]

THE ADMINISTRATION OF PRESIDENT GRANT

Now my friends, a few words in regard to the administration of President Grant I feel highly honored in having the presence of our distinguished Chief Magistrate here to-night [Cheers] But I shall not be deterred by his presence from saying what I would say if he were not here I think I can say to-night that we have not had a better administration in half a century, if we ever had [Cheers] We may have had as good in the early days of the Republic when its business was very small, but we have not had a better —I care not what departments of the Government you look at—you find it administered with ability, with integrity and with success In this administration the work of funding our national debt into bonds bearing a lower rate of interest has been successfully begun and we have assurance that it will be carried out to final triumph In twenty five months under this administration $204,000,000 of the debt have been paid off The annual interest on this amount would be over $12,000,000 An annual expenditure of $12,000,000 has thus been saved by the liquidation of $204,000,000 of that debt During these twenty five months Congress has repealed taxes to the amount of over $83,000,000 [Cheers] And by retrenchment that has been carried into every department of the Government, by the economy that has been practiced by this administration, large sums of money are saved that would have been squandered By the successful enforcement of the revenue laws larger sums of money are collected from a smaller taxation than existed under the previous administration While we have been able thus to reduce the taxes over eighty three millions of dollars, the work will still go on at the next session of Congress If this administration shall continue we shall be able to make further large reductions We shall be able to modify the tariff in an important particular I myself, have steadily voted against the repeal of the income tax, because I did not believe the time had arrived when that tax could be properly repealed, but if the administration goes on with the same success in the future, as it has in the past, I believe that we shall be able to repeal that tax at the coming session of Congress [Applause] The Republican party works steadily We cannot do every thing at once We cannot repeal all the taxes at one time We do not pretend that we can ever repeal all of them The Government must be carried on and the public credit must be maintained Large sums of money are necessarily required for that purpose, and they must be collected from the people Our Democratic friends sometimes talk as if they could repeal all the taxes and carry on the Government by the use of a sound policy. [Laughter] You cannot do that The President of the United States has proved faithful to every principle of the party. [Cheers.] I think he is a greater radical to-day than some who started a good while before him [Laughter and applause] He is not a Johnson a Filmore or a Tyler He is performing his whole duty to the country as he understands that duty, and he is carrying out in good faith the moral pledges upon which he was elected [Applause] And as long as a President does that my friends, his administration cannot be broken down [" Never " and applause]

The Indian policy that has been inaugurated and which is especially the work of President Grant, is enough to immortalize half a dozen Administrations He has adopted the simple [illegible] kindness good-will and [illegible] with the Indians, which [illegible] on this continent [illegible] all, only produced [illegible] and I [illegible] justified [illegible] that at no time [illegible] past, within a [illegible] of a hundred years, have we been so [illegible] at peace with the Indian tribes upon this continent as we are at present. If you will review the history of our country in connection with the Indian tribes I believe you will be able to bear witness to the accuracy of my statement The policy of the President is a policy of peace His paths are paths of peace While he is endeavoring to preserve the peace between two neighboring republics he was arraigned as a criminal But he has recently been acquitted at the bar of public opinion [Cheers] Those who have tried to impeach him of high crime and misdemeanors have impeached themselves of supreme folly [Applause]

THE SPRING ELECTIONS

Some two or three weeks ago we were beaten in New-Hampshire. After the result of that election the Democracy took great courage They said it was an evidence that the Republican party was dying and that the Democracy was coming into power But it was evident of no such thing The truth is the result of the New Hampshire election was owing to local causes, to local dissensions and quarrels, and to apathy brought about by long success—that indifference which is so often attendant upon continued triumph. In that defeat there was no element of degeneracy on the part of the Republican Party But we have had another election It was in Connecticut You have doubtless heard of that We did not count very much on carrying Connecticut It was hardly our year to carry it The elections in Connecticut have been very close for several years, but at the last election the Republicans were determined simply to show that the Democracy were reckoning without their host, and that the people of this country do not intend to put this government into the hands of the party that was so nearly ruining the Republic We have triumphed in Connecticut, and the elections in other States show that the Republican party so far from being in a decaying, or dying condition is full of lusty life, and will achieve a grand victory in 1872 [Applause and cries of "That's so"] Last year we lost Indiana by a small majority—the vote was nearly forty thousand short The defeat was the result of local causes difficulties growing out of State questions, and was in no wise connected with national politics But that will not happen again in Indiana If we had an election there to-morrow, I believe we could carry the State by about ten thousand majority—[applause] —and in 1872 the State of Indiana will show that she has not forgotten the services of her illustrious soldiers that she has not forgotten the principles of the great party which alone can save this country and she will also show that she has not forgotten the hero who led our armies to victory [Applause]

THE NEW GOVERNMENT OF THE DISTRICT

My friends, I have spoken much longer than I intended to speak to-night There are distinguished gentlemen here whom you will be glad to listen to. The Vice President of the United States who has long been a citizen of Indiana and a friend of mine is present He served his State with honor and distinction in Congress, and he now presides over the Senate of the United States with marked ability and success You will be glad to hear from him and here, too are other representatives from Indiana able and eloquent, who have faithfully served their country for many years Indianians I again return to you my thanks for this evidence of your kindness and confidence My fellow citizens of Washington, I express to you my grateful acknowledgments for your presence here to-night One word before I close in regard to the District of Columbia I don't know whether you call it the Territory of Columbia or the District of Columbia [A voice "The District"] That is right Names however are not of much importance It was said in the Senate the other day by a distinguished Senator that we had shown our distrust of self government by the bill that we had passed to establish a government in this District There was not one word of truth in it. The people of the District of Columbia are now for the first time empowered to elect a local government of their own a Legislature and a delegate to Congress The Democratic Party during the long years of its rule never conceived the idea of conferring self government upon the people of the District of Columbia [Applause] That was the gift of the Republican Party and I hope you will not fail to remember it What is the argument of the Democratic candidate in this District? I have been reading the papers every morning and I find the last lingering argument they have got is an appeal to the whole people against the colored people attempting to raise the prejudice against color That argument has been the meat and the drink of the Democratic Party in the United States for the last thirty years [Applause] But I am told that their rations are nearly exhausted [Laughter] Again, my friends, I thank you and I bid you good night
